

Introduction Video

Approximately a week ago we announced the release of the most advanced RC system created. Just minutes after the release, countless requests were made for a video presentation. We listened and prepared the first ever debut for OSRC, mixed with some stylish short story which shows OSRC in action with some key features that the system can provide. The video is just one out of many, planned by the OSRC team and can all be found on the OSRC YouTube Channel
